Protest Slow Progress On Black Point Highway

Sonoma Valley Citizens Formulate Resolutions and Collect Money to Carry On Campaign to Speed Up Highway Work

Wednesday night at the Sonoma City Hall there was a mass meeting of citizens of the Valley of the Moon to protest the slow progress being made on the Black Point cut-off state highway work between Ignacio and this valley. The road has been closed for some time past, shutting out all direct entrance from San Francisco to this section. A report was prevented at the meeting claiming that Grant, Smith & Company, the contractors, had a small force of men at work, inferior equipment and had already been granted additional time by the Highway Commission to complete their contract. The percentage of work completed was reported as far behind schedule and with the probability of the contractors asking another extension of time, traffic over the road, said the investigator, bids fair to be shut out of Sonoma Valley for months to come.

Indignation was voiced by many speakers at the meeting and it was finally decided to accept voluntary contributions to a fund to carry on an intensive campaign for better highway treatment. The Sonoma Valley, in conjunction with other counties, made substantial financial contribution to put through the Black Point cut-off, which was designed to give the interior valleys more direct access to the bay. State funds gave out before the highway commission's work was anywhere near complete and for two years nothing was done on the crude dirt road which was supposed to be a highway. After repeated requests from legislators and organizations in this territory, work was resumed and part way surfacing and grading of the road from Ignacio to the Napa county line promised. Early in the spring a contract was let by the Highway Commission and the route closed to traffic. Business in the Sonoma Valley and adjacent districts has suffered greatly this summer due to the tie-up and it is with a view to getting traffic resumed over one of the main arteries of travel into the Sonoma Valley that the mass meeting was called.

Over $100 was immediately collected as a nucleus for the fund to speed up progress on Sonoma roads.

W. E. HELBERG JR. EXPECTS TO GET PRIZE FOR PEARS

Wm. E. Helberg Jr., of the C. B. Williams Fruit Co. and one of Sonoma Valley's most progressive young orchardists, expects to carry off a gold medal at the State Fair at Sacramento with his Bartlett pears. Mr. Helberg has made a study of the prize winning Bartletts in years past and also of the method of production, cultivation, pruning and spraying. As a result his 1922 crop shows a wonderfully fine yield, the size and uniformity of his fruit giving practical assurance to Mr. Helberg that he can win honors with them this year among the best pear exhibits at the state capital

Mr. Helberg is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helberg of Schellville, his mother being president of Bear Flag Lodge, Daughters of Pocahontas.

Irving Gobar, little son of Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Gobar, formerly of Sonoma is here from San Francisco visiting his grandfather, P. McDonnell.

GRASS FIRE SWEEPS RANCHES THURSDAY

Foster, Yenni and Waller Properties Burned Over. Chief Cause's Department Saves Buildings.

A grass fire, starting on the A. W. Foster ranch along the state highway spread to the hills and before being controlled swept over a wide area of pasture land on the Foster, Yenni and Jones ranches. A call was sent in to Boyes Springs for help and the Boyes Springs and Valley Fire Department made the run to the Foster ranch with the Valley Angel in just 16 minutes, arriving a little past noon with the big chemical engine. The fire burned dangerously near a number of homes and buildings on the ranches and the timely arrival of the fire department saved eight structures from the flames.

Chief Cause was personally in charge of the fire fighters and was ably assisted by Messrs. Hastings, Smith, Ed Davis, John Dale, F. Steurmer and Harry Tricou, president of the Association of Veteran Firemen of San Francisco.

The fire fighters battled the stubborn fire fr three hours before all danger was past. The ranches burned over are stocked with sheep and cattle.

Frank and Jesse Burris, officers of the Sonoma Valley Bank returned on Tuesday from an auto trip to Lake Tahoe.

GEORGE M. CHASE CROSSES DIVIDE

Prominent Member of Old and Respected Family Passes Away at the Age of Eighty-Two Years.

George M. Chase, who came to California in his youth and was prominent in the commercial life of San Francisco for many years before retiring to his country home here, died Thursday at the advanced age of 82 years.

He was a brother of the late J. B. Chase, race horse owner and capitalist, with whom he had been identified in many business enterprises.

Descendant from a fine family of Quaker stock, prominent in Nantucket Mass., Mr. Chase inherited many exceptional traits and was a man of high principle and ideals. He was twice married, his widow being Marie Scipp, of a pioneer Sonoma family, by whom he had one son, George Chase, who is left to mourn him. Two children by a former marriage, Leander Bly Chase and Alice Chase Stovall, also survive him.

The funeral took place here yesterday afternoon and today at Mount Olivet the remains will be cremated.

COUNTY FAIR DISCUSSED HERE AT DINNER

H. J. Waters, secretary of the Sonoma County Board of Trade and several other boosters from Santa Rosa and Petaluma were here last night and at a dinner at the Plaza Hotel, discussed the plan for having Sonoma Valley make an exhibit at the County Fair. A number of fruit growers, Sonoma Business Men and Chamber of Commerce representatives were present.

J. A. WILLIAMS PASSED AWAY ON WEDNESDAY

John A. Williams, nephew of Mrs. B. Thurston of Wood Valley, and a carpenter by trade, passed away Wednesday at a local sanitarium following a brief illness.

Deceased was only 23 years of age and his untimely death is mourned by family and friends.

The funeral took place here yesterday.

Harry Tricou of the Veteran Firemen's Association of San Francisco has been spending his vacation at Boyes and as usual, has been in on several fire runs with the local boys. Mr. Tricou returned to the city this week to help complete arrangements for the big picnic of the Association at Fairfax.

Miss Marie Clewe of San Francisco is spending her vacation here. Attired in the regulation hiking trousers of khaki she has had a wonderful outing in her old home valley the past week.

The Knorre family, who have been visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, of Sonoma West, have returned home.

Sonoma Lodges Have Planned Fine Program for Grand Officers and Delegates

Parade and Picnic Sunday

Sonoma is in gala attire for the coming of the United Order of Redmen convention delegates, who will arrive here tomorrow to hold their annual convention. The Sonoma Stamm and the Bear Flag Lodge, Daughters of Pocahontas, will greet the visitors upon their arrival tomorrow (Sunday morning) and escort them to convention headquarters at Union Hall.

At 1 o'clock Sunday the parade, featuring floats symbolic of the history of the Order and participated in by many gaily decorated automobiles will form in line and after marching through Sonoma will go up to the Springs and counter march to Oak Grove, where the grand convention picnic will be held at 2 o'clock p. m. An immense crowd is expected and the big pavilion will no doubt be thronged with dancers, Maerilla's splendid orchestra to render the music throughout the afternoon. Games and contests on the grounds will amuse those who do not care to participate in the dancing.

At 7:30, the city of Sonoma will be illuminated, the handsome electric bell which is to be a gift to the city following the convention to be the principal feature of the night display.

The lodges will entertain the delegates Sunday evening at Union Hall, Carl Dresel delivering the speech of welcome and a program of music and other features to be enjoyed. The program in detail is as follows:

Piano Solo—Miss Rosmay Rehaag
Piano Solo—Master Hubert Randolph
Comic Recitation—Wm. Steinkamp
Address of Welcome—Carl Dresel
Piano Solo—Miss Eva Dresel
Song—Fox Sisters
Comic Recitation—Mrs. William Steinkamp
Swiss Dancing—Swiss Troupe
Comic Sketch—Two Lady Members
Dancing will conclude the program.

Monday morning at the historic Vallejo home, "Lachryma Montis" (so called for the pure, clear spring of water which was General Vallejo's pride and is still the source of Sonoma City's water supply) the business sessions of the convention will begin. The sessions will be in the gardens under the grand old trees which have stood sentinel there many years and beneath whose shade many important gatherings and social affairs have been held. Mrs. Lulu Vallejo Emparan, daughter of General Vallejo, will welcome the visitors to the old homestead and following the business sessions will display the many interesting heirlooms and relics of early California which she treasures.

Sight seeing trips to many historic spots in and around Sonoma and a visit to the old Mission, founded in 1823, will intersperse the transaction of convention business.

At 7:30 Monday evening in the Plaza there will be a concert of classic and popular numbers, both orchestral and vocal, under the direction of Madame Maerilla, recently of Chicago but now a resident of Sonoma Valley. The concert program will be as follows:

Muttering Fritz, characteristic march —F. H. Losey.
Slumber Song—Schumann.
Minuetto, E Flat Symphony—Mozart.
Solitude, Mercadante—Beyore.
Chansonindone (Song of India) from the Legend of Sad Ka.
Cavatina—J. Raff.
Liebesfrend—Fritz Kreisler.
Sextette from Lucia—Donizetti.
Traumerei and Romance—Schumann.
Carissima—A. A. Penn.
The Corcoran Cadet March—Sousa.

A grand ball to which everyone is invited will be held at Union Hall after the concert, the eight piece

The railroad strike, which threatens to tie up all roads, has spread to the Santa Rosa division. Last Saturday the section gang at Schellville laid down their tools and walked off the job.

Sheriff John Boyes in his time of service in office, aided by capable deputies, has established a record for the apprehension of criminals and check forgers. Joe Ryan, his deputy in the Sonoma Valley, is known as one of the cleverest detectives and officers in California. Mr. Boyes will receive a large vote throughout the county at the coming primaries and his many friends here are rallying to his support.

Three feeble minded girls who escaped from the Eldridge home Sunday evening were caught below Schell ville last Monday morning by H. Dokter, section foreman for the S. P. The girls refused at first to surrender, but finally admitted that they were the trio wanted. They had their pockets filled with stones to give battle. Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan who was already on their trail, arrived a few minutes later and took the prisoners back to the home. They had been wandering all Sunday night and it is claimed they have escaped from the institution several times lately.

The grand jury Friday at San Rafael exonerated A. C. Anderson of blame for the death of Olaf Anderson husband of the former Mrs. James Lounibos, of El Verano. Olaf Anderson and party had a drinking quarrel at Mill Valley a few days ago and death was caused by a fall. Although bearing the same name, the Andersons were no relation. A fist fight, it is claimed, preceded the accident, which ended in death.

The Agua Caliente Springs was crowded last Sunday. Every room in the hotel was taken and a large crowd enjoyed the baths and the swimming tank; also the latest New York dance sensation in waltzing, Swaying, was enjoyed by the crowd at the hotel. To E. G. Perkins is due the credit of introducing the latest dance, which is a hit at the springs. Nick Gill, manager of the bath house, is kept busy these days looking out for the wants of the patrons and the summer girls think he is just lovely, while Ed Benson takes care of the bottling works and is kept busy bottling the famous Caliente water. Tom Corcoran, the owner, is popular all over the state and is improving the grounds in and around the springs.

El Verano sportsmen have all turned frog catchers. Sonoma Creek is alive with the red legged hoppers and Albert Dutil, Sonoma's leading baker, reports having landed a ten-pounder, the largest yet caught. F. Thiel, the champion frog catcher of the world, is in town and is making the frogs look groggy. While not frogging, Mr. Thiel entertains and plays the piano at the Antlers. He stands six feet tall, and, when in quest of the hoppers, wades into the water up to his neck, with his head floating on top of the water, much resembling a floating duck when he is about to pounce upon the jumping beauty. He is a master at the frog catching game and has been following it for 20 years. The presence of so many frogs in the Sonoma Creek is the result of the breaking of the dam on the Spreckels Ranch years ago.

MILLER OFFERED MATCH WITH JESS WILLARD

Charles Augustus Miller, the masseur and Beau Brummel of the Agua Caliente Springs, who before retiring to the Valley of the Moon was a heavy weight contender for the pugilistic championship and a good one, received an offer of a $2500 match with Jess Willard last week. Charley only smiled and said $10,000 might induce him to re-enter the ring.

While fine and fit, Miller is now 43 years of age and says that brain and brawn don't correlate as well as in youth and that he fears he might see canary birds at the crucial moment, should he again go up against the up-to-the-minute boys of his class.

Miller put Willard over the ropes once and has press notices to prove it.

SIMMONS PHARMACY

STATEMENT ON RAIL STRIKE ON THE N. W. P.

In connection with the strike of shop craftsmen on the railroads of this county, stress is being laid upon the inadequacy of the wage rates for shop craftsmen, machinists, boiler makers, car repairers, etc., who have struck against recent award of the United States Railroad Labor Board. Most of such arguments are based on a reputed minimum wage of $1.84 per day for section labor. This is pure subterfuge, as the minimum rate of 23c per day for an eight hour day for section labor has no relation whatever to the wages received by the shop crafts. Such minimum rate applies only to Mexican and negro labor in a very limited portion of the United States, where, for the last 18 months, the ruling rate for similar labor in all industries has been 20c per hour. Such men in railroad employ are furnished housing, water and fuel free of charge and food at extremely low rates, yet at such rate, these men work not over three or four days per week, the earnings they receive more than covering their wants. The housing, furthermore, includes that for their families.

The rate paid on the N. W. P. for section labor under the new order of the labor board is 35c per hour, some of the men of their own volition working 10 and 12 hours per day, and this has meant $3.50 to $4.20 per day for a laborer housed by the company and furnished board with his housing for approximately $1.00 per day.

The argument that if a section laborer received but $1.84 per day, a skilled mechanic was entitled to a minimum of $2600 per year, or $217 per month, to support his family, including a wife and three children, therefore falls to the ground. Our pay rolls show that shop craftsmen were paid, from July 1, 1921, to July 1, 1922, an average of from $140 to $175 per month, according to occupation, and that even with the present wage, since July 1, 1922, under the present rules, to meet the conditions appertaining on a railroad, their average monthly pay will be from $130 to $160. Contrast with a monthly average of $90 to $130 prior to the war, which wage was paid for many years, and under which they raised their families, educated their children and purchased homes in our territory. That they were able to so prosper was because they were given steady employment—this is the feature which counts in railroad service. The average mechanic in the building trades is idle much of the year. Therefore he necessarily must earn a higher rate when at work. But we should ask the public how many men do they know, considered in the same class as craftsmen, who are earning $2600 per year, or $217 per month?

The machinists, boilermakers, etc., are, at the wage rates now paid, earning from 32 to 37 per cent higher wages, and car repairers, car inspectors, etc., 85 per cent more than they were before the war.

The argument is further being repeated in the press that this reduction was in order that the railroad companies may earn large profits. The public should bear in mind that during federal control, wage payments to railroad employes were increased over $3,000,000,000,000 and that such payment was made for a considerable period, that a further increase of 22 per cent was made May 1, 1920, and that such high rates were in effect until July 1, 1921, a period of three years and six months. In the same period notwithstanding increases in freights and fares, the net revenues of the railroad as a whole steadily decreased.

Let us take the case of the N. W. P.: Its net revenue after deducting taxes, showed a decrease of 35.9 per cent in the year 1920, as compared with 1917, notwithstanding the fact that the volume of business showed increase.

The pay roll in 1920 shows an increase in compensation paid to employees of over $2,000,000 or 93.1 per cent, as compared with the year 1917. Prices paid for fuel, oil, rails, ties, lumber and other supplies were also much higher in 1920.

The state of California, by the passage of the King tax bill, increased the payment to the state by this company to over $561,000 per annum to raise money for the construction of highways parallel with its lines, upon which opposition transportation facilities are being handled. Its passenger business is rapidly decreasing by reason of such automobile competition and its freight business by use of such highways for heavy motor trucks.

It should be the aim of the press in the United States to publish facts, and not open their columns to propaganda inimical to the best interests of the communities they serve. The rail road managements wish to place only the truth before the people and believe that good, safe, reliable service at reasonable rates will do more toward upbuilding such communities than propaganda designed to uphold excessive wage rates for a small number of craftsmen working in such territory.

Vote for Friend W. Richardson for Governor of California

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE AND THE VICE PRESIDENCY

It is not at all surprising to have the news come out of the East that Senator Samuel M. Shortridge is being seriously considered for the Republican nomination for vice president of the United States in 1924. His entrance into official life at Washington was marked from the outset with recognition of his ability as a parliamentarian and statesman, a compliment in which all California rejoiced, for it is seldom that a man scores at the national capitol so signally, so spontaneously and without the mark of seniority which is preliminary to recognition at the national capitol.

It is unfortunate that the fortunes of politics postponed the splendid representation Senator Shortridge has been giving us for the past two sessions, and that for years we had at Washington either politicians of ordinary talent or those who gave the wrong impression of the statesmanship of our West, while we held in reserve this man who now forges to the front as a vice presidential possibility. However, it was propitious that Senator Shortridge has entered the national arena at one of the most crucial periods in the history of the republic, when problems of the greatest import to this and other nations are to be solved and dealt with; while international questions of delicate adjustment are in the balance and statesmen of all the world are taking cognizance of what this country is doing.

Leading in discussions on vital questions, profoundly studying the problems which mean everything to the advancement and welfare of the nation, we find Senator Shortridge recognized as an authority and guide, and admired for qualities which for years had made him a dominant figure in our Golden State.

It was in 1914 that the Index-Tribune pointed out some of the characteristics which, no doubt, now enter into the calculations of national leaders in quest of the best material for a vice president for the Republican ticket some two years hence. Here is what we then saw in Samuel M. Shortridge:

"A man of tall and commanding physique, learned, a born orator and of great personal magnetism, he possesses all the attributes of statesmanship and would be an honor to California in the upper house of Congress."

It takes more than big type on billboards for a candidate to get into office. Voters want to know something about the type of man they are voting for and investigation along that line often yields much, we'll tell the world.

Speed has again taken its toll—a pitiful sacrifice of young lives in the face of reiterated warnings. When a motorist tries to beat a street car, train or anything else to a crossing, right then and there Death has him in his grasp.

Evidently there were those in Chico who did not believe a warehouse was a proper place for perfectly good beer. It was inevitable that it should disappear.

Fig "hooch" is said to be an experiment of promise. That's getting pretty close to the original sin and we all know original sin was the result of prohibition.

WELCOME, GUESTS!

Sonoma Valley extends a cordial welcome to the delegates and members of the United Order of Redmen who arrive tomorrow and will be our guests for several days.

We are proud of Sonoma's history and of those distinguished early Californians to whose good judgment and stamina we owe our founding. We are proud of the heritage of hospitality, and the salubrious climate and soil, which seems to promote cordiality and radiate good fellowship. Sonoma Valley residents of 1922 can make no mistake by emulating the splendid example of courtesy and hospitality for which General Mariano G. Vallejo, founder of our city, was famous.

On the historic grounds of the old Vallejo home the delegates will assemble and we feel sure they will be inspired with the home-like feeling of all who come within the cordial precincts of that beloved place. More genial hosts and hostesses will not be found than among our Sonoma lodges of Redmen and Daughters of Pocahontas. Sonoma's reputation for hospitality can safely be left to them with assurance that when our visitors return to their homes they will carry memories rich in pleasure and fraught with good for the future upbuilding and fame of Sonoma Valley.

NOW WHAT WOULD OMAR HAVE THOUGHT

It is about time that Fresno had a newspaper which would not make itself as ridiculous as the Fresno Republican. In its blind frenzy to kill off so-called dry wine grapes and give Fresno grapes (the kind with the real "kick") an exclusive chance at the prohibition market, the editor advocates the suppression of "the outlaw wine grape." Can you beat it, when all the world knows or ought to know that Fresno vineyardists, presumably getting rich off raisins for years past, have really been getting rich because of raisin wine brewed in supposed "dry" states—the innocent, dried up, little raisin, which we of the dry wine districts thought was going into raisin bread, fruit cake, pudding and such confections. Instead, raisins were going into vats in Kansas and other redeemed states for smug reformers to guzzle between fits of remorse. No, the dry wine grapes of Sonoma and other counties favored by nature for their production, will continue to be among the most valuable and highly regarded products of California, Fresno raisins notwithstanding. Furthermore, these same Zinfadels and other so-called outlaw varieties have done and will continue to do more toward the promotion of real temperance and sobriety than all the prohibition legislation ever invented.

The Fresno Republican, under the caption, "The Future of the Grape," made this commentary in April:

"The juice grape is the grape that once went to the wineries but now goes to the Eastern markets in lug boxes and arrives in a condition scarcely fit for human consumption. The juice grape has long been recognized as the outlaw of the grape industry. The producers of grapes that can find a legitimate market could offer no better service to the industry than to unite for the suppression of the outlaw."

FACULTY FOR SONOMA HIGH SCHOOL, 1922-1923

The Board of Trustees of the Sonoma Valley Union High School has announced the faculty for the coming year as follows:

L. H. Golton, Principal, A. M., Harvard. To teach economics, advanced mathematics, part-time work and physical training.

Florence A. Rolfe, A. M., University of California. Latin, Spanish, stenography.

Bertha L. Worthorst, A. M., Leland Stanford University. Mathematics and science.

L. L. Stenquist, Washington State College. Agriculture and mechanical arts.

Charlotte Wirt, A. M., Leland Stanford University. English.

Edith A. Hoag, A. M., University of California. Commercial branches and history.

Eva E. Byrne, A. B., University of California. Household economics and physical training.

Lyle Campbell, University of Pacific. Orchestra, chorus, physical training, study hall and library. Will also conduct orchestra of Sonoma Grammar School.

The actual enrollment for the year just completed was as follows:

Total enrollment, full time, 138; part time, 17.

Enrollment by classes—First year, 64; second year, 33; Third year, 25; fourth year, 13; special, 3; part time, 17. Boys, 92; girls, 63.

Almost one-third more boys than girls were in attendance during the 1921-1922 term, an unusual condition, but one which has been so during the last four years in Sonoma Valley Union High School. It is the reverse in most schools.

Increase in average daily attendance was 32 per cent.

The increase in attendance made necessary the employment of the eighth teacher.

The high school will re-open Sept. 5th, in the old building, but progress on the magnificent new $100,000 high school building indicates that it can be occupied within a very few months.

McRorie—McLaren, the landscape gardeners, have drawn a blue print, laying out the grounds, walks and the athletic fields on the twelve acre tract which the new school building occupies. There will be broad cement approaches to the main entrance with lawn and shrubbery in the center and perhaps a fountain or sun dial. The driveways are at the side of the grounds and lead up to the athletic field or oval, where bleachers to seat 500 people will be erected.

The domestic science building, manual training quarters and experimental gardens for the agricultural department will occupy other spaces on the grounds. A hedge, trees, shrubs and flowers are called for in the landscape plan, which, if carried out, would make the Sonoma school property exceedingly beautiful. It is planned to follow the plan by degrees and do the work in units.

The school, owing to the increased enrollment, cost $40 less per pupil to maintain in 1922 than in 1921.

NOMINATIONS COMPLETE FOR PRIMARY ELECTION

Ten Candidates Have No Opponents. List of Local Nominations Reveal New Names.

Thursday of last week, all candidates whose names will appear on the ballot at the primary election August 29th, had filed their nomination papers with County Clerk W. W. Felt, Jr., at Santa Rosa.

A large number of candidates will have no opposition, as follows:

H. W. Slater, state senator; W. W. Felt, Jr., county clerk; T. Virgil Butts county tax collector; Herbert Snyder, county recorder; Olney Pedigo, county auditor; J. W. Ramage, county treasurer; E. A. The Republican candidates for county committeemen are George Breitenbach, A. Beretta, A. Monotti, John Mohr and W. L. Murphy. Three are to be elected. As the county committee job carries no salary, John J. Mohr is eligible for that as well as the constableship.

State Senator—Herbert W. Slater, (D and R).

SONOMA DAIRYMAN HAS A UNIQUE SIDE-LINE

C. C. Champlin, of Champlin & Peck, Sonoma dairymen, has a unique side-line—tying nuptial knots for happy couples—for Champlin is an ordained minister and rightfully can use Reverend C. C. before his name.

While occupying pulpits in San Francisco and Pittsburg, he was very successful and lucky in uniting "hearts that beat as one," and as a result gets a call now and then to officiate at weddings. Here is an account of his latest ceremony:

The marriage of Miss Nola E. Roberts and W. Kendall Lowes was solemnized at high noon at the home of the bride's parents in Napa on Sunday July 16th.

The living room was beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies and asparagus ferns.

The bride, with her father, entered the living room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, and the Rev. Champlin of Sonoma read the impressive marriage service.

Miss Roberts was a charming bride in her bridal gown of softest canton crepe and her bouquet of white rose buds and ferns. Her life long friend, Miss Ella Hjelm, was her maid of honor, and Warren Buchanan acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a delicious wedding breakfast was served to the guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Lowes left for a motor trip to Lake Tahoe regions and on their return will make their home in Pittsburg, Cal.

RACING AT THIS YEAR'S STATE FAIR

For the first time in a score or more of years, the State Fair racing meeting set this year for September 2 to 10, will be held without the presence of William Durfee of Los Angeles, the premier reinsman of the west, who also ranks with the best in the county.

Although Billy Durfee, as he is widly known, will not be present, it is expected that his father, veteran Charles Durfee, will be here and take out a few mounts. The latter has not missed a State Fair in the memory of the oldtimers in the California racing game.

The2:09 trot of the State Fair meeting, September 2 to 10, which to fill in the period originally allotted for the filing of entries, has been reopened will the result that some of the fastest trotters in the State will meet this event, according to announcment of Sacretary Chas. W. Paine. The trot will be held Tuesday, September 5, for purse of $750.

SUDDEN DEATH OF DR. LAWSON

Dr. Lawis B. Lawson, who until a few weeks ago was the senior member of the firm of Lawsom Rinner Optical Co., died at his home, 1056 Fourth street about 9 o'clock Saturday night, following a stroke of apoplexy at noon which paralyzed his entire right side and left him unconsciousness.

While the death came suddenly, Mr. Lawson had been in poor health for some time, and was compelled to dispose of his business interests to his partner, John Rinner, on that account in order to take a much needed rest.

Mr. Lawson was born in Sarnia, Canada, 67 years ago, and came to Cal ifornia from his native town 50 years ago. He settled in Los Angeles and was instructor in penmanship in the Los Angeles schools for a number of years. —Santa Rosa Republican.

IN DEFENSE OF SHINGLE ROOFS

California lumbermen have started a statewide campaign to defeat the State Housing Act, up for referendum at the November elecction, which denies the citizen of any incorporated community in California --city, town or village--the right to build homes with shingle roofs. This course was decided upon at a meeting of the Executive Committee California Lumbermen, because the antishingle clause, inserted so adroitly that it was not discovered until after Governor Stephens had signed the measure is manifestly unfair to lumber interests of California.

Goodrich announces new tire prices

—lowest cost mileage ever known

Effective July 20th, Goodrich establishes a revised price list that is a base line of tire value. It gives the motorist the buying advantage of knowing that whatever size tire he selects is of the same quality—the Goodrich one-quality standard. It gives him the longest mileage, the most satisfactory service and the highest quality his money can buy. Results will prove that it is impossible to buy tire mileage at lower cost.

Think of being able to buy

PACIFIC COAST JOCKEY CLUB AGAINST BILL

The following letter has been received by this office from Howard Spreckels, secretary of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, of which A. B. Spreckels is President and Rudolph Spreckels is Vice President.

The Sonoma Index-Tribune,
Sonoma, California:

Our attention has been called to statements which are being made to the effect that the Pacific Coast Jockey Club is in favor of the adoption of an initiative measure, known as the Horse Racing with Gambling Bill, and which will appear on the ballot at the November election.

We desire to inform the voters of California that we are unalterably opposed to the adoption of that measure or any like attempt to introduce gambling on horse races.

It is the aim of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club to promote clean sport for the people and to encourage breeding of thoroughbred horses in California. It is the opinion of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club that the adoption of the Horse Racing with Gambling Bill would seriously interfere with these high aims and that it would again bring horse racing into disrepute in this state. Those who are connected with our organization are moved by a desire to restore horse racing on a legitimate basis and as a public benefit.

We ask those voters who agree with the racing principles of this association to vote against the adoption of the Horse Racing with Gambling measure.

We shall greatly appreciate publication of this statement in your paper so that our position on this question will be made clear to the public.

Yours very truly,
Pacific Coast Jockey Club,
By, H. Spreckels, Secretary.

TOM JONES AND RACING

Tom Jones, the well known trainer of thoroughbred race horses, has been visiting in Sonoma after an absence of 20 years. Thirty years ago Tom came to Sonoma and took charge of the James B. Chase racing stables and it was here he developed several racers that brought renown to Sonoma from the Eastern and Canadian tracks.

Tom is now nearly 75 years of age but he is full of reminescences of the happy racing days of the past and he can cite incidents and pedigrees of famous thoroughbreds as readily as a high school student can talk basket ball. Tom predicts that racing will soon come back and his friends hope his prediction will come true and that they will once again read of Tom Jones, the noted trainer.
